

Shelly L. Skeen (pronouns: she/her) is the South-Central Regional Director for Lambda Legal. Lambda Legal is the oldest and largest national civil rights legal organization working for full and lived equality for LGBTQ+ people and people living with HIV through impact litigation, public policy advocacy and education. With over twenty years' experience as a practicing attorney, Ms. Skeen is a seasoned litigator, appellate practitioner, mediator, and arbitrator. She holds a diploma in International Arbitration, has filed amici briefs in the U.S. Supreme Court and successfully appeared before Texas Supreme Court. Ms. Skeen has served as the Chair of the LGBTQ Law Section for the State Bar of Texas, President of the Dallas LGBT Bar Association, is a frequent speaker and author on LGBTQ legal issues and is adjunct faculty for National Institute of Trial Advocacy. In 2016, the Texas Bar College awarded Ms. Skeen The Franklin Jones Award for the Best CLE Article, which addressed the retroactivity of Obergefell. Ms. Skeen has served on the CLE Committee of the State of Texas for six years, is a frequent CLE Course Director and is concluding her seventh year on the committee in an advisory capacity. In 2018, Ms. Skeen earned an LL.M. from UCLA School of Law, with specializations in Constitutional Law and Law & Sexuality. Ms. Skeen was honored by the LGBTQ Law Section with its highest award, the Judge Black Award, for her work on behalf of the LGBTQ+ community, was recently named a "Living Legend" by the Dallas Bar Association, and currently works with UT and UNT law schools on behalf of Transgender Texans in their legal clinics.
